The author, H. Roger Daisley, a former executive at several of the most prestigious and respected companies in the U.S. financial services industry, outlines the pros and cons of various investment vehicles and tax incentives, and how each might apply to a typical American middle-class extended family. Daisley is also an experienced lecturer and teacher who has spoken at many colleges and universities, and to CPAs, attorneys, and business owners, on topics ranging from investing, tax law changes, educational funding, long term care, estate planning, and the marketing of financial products. He has written many articles on topics related to financial planning, and contributed to a textbook published by one of the oldest organizations for financial industry training, The American College.
